

Pet Preparedness

Sometimes our greatest loves are more of the furry variety than the human - although some pet owners will swear that their animals are just as human as they are. Just as you prepare for your human family for disaster, so should you take care to make sure that your pets are provided for in case of emergency - put aside extra food, water, leashes, identification, toys and carriers so animals will be comfortable in case of disaster.

For more information in keeping your furry loved ones safe during emergencies visit the links below:

The Humane Society of the United States Disaster Center with Preparedness and Safety Information for Pets, Livestock and Horses

American Red Cross Animal Safety